TERMS OF USE

By joining the Diaspora Library, you agree to abide by the terms of use of the Diaspora Bookshop and Café as described below:

- All books and any other material taken from the premises should be handled with the utmost care and returned in the same condition they were borrowed.
- Any damage, defacing or alteration of the borrowed materials will result in an immediate demand for the retail value of the material (i.e. book/cd/dvd or other).
- Any late return of borrowed material will result in a request for payment of a late fee of Le. 5000 per day.
- The laptops available for internet access are to be used with care; any spillage of drinks or food on them or other damage due to the member's negligence will result in the member/user having to take full financial responsibility for any replacement or repairs.
- Access to websites with suspicious content (such as pornographic sites) will not be permitted and any evidence that a member/user has been accessing such sites will result in the immediate cancellation of that person's membership.
- If a member's subscription is revoked or cancelled, there will only be a refund for any period in excess of a month. If cancellation is due to the member's breach of these terms, refund will be at the sole discretion of the Diaspora Bookshop & Café Management.
